Modern Masters Studio Workshops

Summer 2009 Registration

Modern Masters Studio Workshops introduce major ideas in sculpture and modern art through informal gallery tours and hands-on studio projects. Workshop content is geared to all levels of adult learners--you don't need to be an artist or an expert to attend!

Join us this summer for workshops focused on major ideas in modern sculpture.

What Makes It Modern: New Ways of Seeing

Have you ever wondered why some modern artists chose to represent people in a simplified, abstract or unusual way? We will focus on the work of Paul Gauguin and Willem de Kooning, two artists with distinctly personal ways of seeing, then experiment with their techniques in our studio.
